

TELFORD HOMES SHORTLISTED FOR THE RESI AWARDS

We are delighted to announce that Telford Homes has been shortlisted for another award at the 2021 RESI Awards.

Stone Studios - a unique new live-work community from Telford Homes, located in the heart of Hackney Wick - has been nominated for the Social Impact Initiative category, which is also a brand new category for this year's awards.

Comprising of five characterful buildings, the distinctive micro-neighbourhood provides 120 expansive, light-filled apartments – as well as 5,000sqm of high-quality commercial space including an on-site café and shared creative workspace. Stone Studios will be an employment-led mixed-use development, which will provide significant employment opportunities for the local community.

Since the start of the project, Telford Homes has been committed to working with the local community and ensuring that locally sourced building materials were used for construction. Local labour has also been used for the works wherever possible, with one of the residents working on the project as a construction trainee, and Telford Homes funding his education.

Now in its 10th year, the RESI Awards, organised by Property Week, brings together the leading organisations within the property sector to compete for some of the industry's most prestigious prizes.

We will face a second stage of judging, before the winners are unveiled at an awards ceremony on Wednesday 1st December.
